Notes on Spring

Severe Critic

Harry Is Irate

About this time of year a fellow takes advantage of the first sunny day to inspect the back side of his yard — something he hasn't seen, probably, since winter set in. And about now a yard is strictly bad news. It looks like a week's work, to get it in shape for mowing.

We had the proverbial hard freeze this year that visits southwest Arkansas about once in a decade. And the freeze, with the help of a dog or two, turned up the strangest collection of sink-holes, horse-shoes, brick-bats and what-have-you.

Getting a place like that in shape for grass-mowing is just one jump behind the job of leveling up the highway between here and Little Rock.

Drew Pearson is an able reporter of sound background and training — but he is also one of the most terrible gadflies on the American political scene, and so it isn't surprising that last night President Harry Truman finally felt himself goaded into calling the columnist some unpleasant names.

Pearson had been campaigning against Mr. Truman's military aide and long-time friend, Maj. Harry H. Vaughan, when the latter accepted a decoration from the allegedly Fascist government of Argentina. A columnist Pearson had a field day.

Last night President Truman told a military banquet in artillery language that: "If anyone thinks he can cause any of my cabinet or staff to be discharged by me, by some smart-aleck statement over the air or in the paper, he has another thing coming."

"If Mr. Pearson is trying to discourage the right of fair comment, then he also has another thing coming."

Nobody's asked me — but between the two of them I think Mr. Truman had the best of it. I have only the mildest enthusiasm for Mr. Truman, but it's a raging bonfire compared to any enthusiasm I might have for the proposal to replace the president's personal circle with men of Communist persuasion.

Pearson has some folks with him in the constant agitation of the Argentinean question. But we're not looking for a war right now — at least on this side of the Atlantic — and the last time Walter Winchell jockeyed our State Department into some undiplomatic interference in the internal affairs of Argentina he most certainly helped get Dictator Peron elected.

Comments on Truman's Language

By United Press
Editorial comment on President Truman's "S. O. B." speech: The New York Times — Surely he could have rebuked what he regarded as an unfair attack upon his military aide without using in a public speech a phrase which is offensive and in poor taste.

New York Herald Tribune — It was a startling utterance, but then the chief executive has been in increasingly bad luck since the phrase that jolts.

For better or worse Mr. Truman has been a copyright on his own brand of pungency. At least, Harry Truman contributed a redolent footnote to our history.

New York Daily News — Even the stately New York Times subdued the wickedest word yesterday on its front page yesterday — something we never thought we'd live to see.

Scripps-Howard newspapers — He was just doing what comes natural. It set up a tough spot for radio broadcasters. The government bumped into the gov'tment. The president and commander-in-chief sounded off with language too hot to handle under gov'tment regulations.

And according to the remark is still being referred to over the air as a "so-and-so." One of the high-up clergy is already out to make the president recant. . . This, too, will pass. And it should be borne in mind that our president got himself elected with midwesterner verbiage. A toned-down official transcript was issued by the White House secretariat. It substituted "anyone" for S. O. B. who's running this gov'tment?

Washington Star — Our language has got into the habit of speaking in the same lingo. The Star protests. Why, if he wants to bring it into a public speech at all, does he not say "this scoundrelly building" instead of reducing the term to such a meaningless symbol as SOB?

Washington Post — The president took frenetic exception (to criticism of his staff) in the language to be used in a speech. It is in that of a president. It is "vicious and unjustified" to attack a friend of the president.

Israel, Egypt Armistice Hailed by Mediator

Rhodes, Feb. 24 — (P)—Egypt and Israel signed today an historic armistice, hailed by the United Nations mediator as an epochal event foreshadowing the early return of peace to the Middle East.

The mediator, Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, said the agreement "virtually eliminates the possibility of a future armed conflict" between Egypt and Israel. He called it "a significant contribution to world peace."

Now, said Bunche, "the concentration will be on peaceful settlement of all outstanding questions, political, territorial and economic, between Israel and her Arab neighbors." The U. N. Palestine conciliation commission already has started to work for this.

Egypt and Israel, by their agreement, blazed the path for the other Arab states. Iraq already has decided to approve whatever agreements are reached by the other neighbors of Palestine who nine months ago had vowed to destroy the dynamic Jewish state.

Talks with Trans-Jordan, the most formidable of Israel's foes, begin Monday.

The Israel-Egyptian armistice leaves Israel in possession of nearly all the southern Negev desert, which she hopes to colonize, in the Arab state. The armistice also provides for demilitarization zones, binds Egypt to surrender all territory she holds in Palestine except Gaza and its five-mile-wide coastal strip, and to withdraw to a defensive line 17 to 30 miles inside her own frontier.

The armistice is clearly described in its preamble as a prelude to permanent peace.

In Cairo, Prime Minister Abdel Hady Pasha told newsmen that the armistice was "purely military in character" and did not carry any political implications.

But in Tel Aviv, Israeli Foreign Minister Moshe Shertok said the armistice would prove a "major event in the life of the Middle East." He added that Israel was confident Egypt never would regret her initiative in ending the shooting war.

Little Rock, Feb. 24 — (P)—The Arkansas senate has authorized a four and one-half cent per gallon tax refund on all gasoline used in farm work.

Originally proposed by Governor McMath and assured of his signature, the bill still must pass the house. If it does, it will become effective April 1.

Refunds up to a total of $2,600,000 annually are authorized on all gasoline used for purely agricultural purposes. If all claims could not be paid, the total available would be prorated among claimants.

The senate rejected 23-5 an administration-sponsored measure which would have required old age pensioners to execute to the state a lien on any property they owned.

Three other bills were approved, among them one of $9,186,870 annually for the next two years to pay principal and interest on highway bonds — both issues already outstanding and those contemplated under Governor McMath's current program. Another appropriation of $7,909,000, was for highway maintenance.

Sen. Ellis Fagan, Little Rock, amended his own bill on local option liquor elections. The original bill would have required such elections in every county along with the biennial general elections. The amendment would confine local option elections to biennial general election dates, but would still require, authorizing petitions as at present. The liquor elections would not be mandatory. In its present form the amended bill is similar to an initiated measure defeated in the 1948 general election.

The game and fish commission appropriation was amended to prohibit expenditure of state funds for public shooting grounds where the facilities are being used as private hunting areas.

Girl Learning to Talk All Over Again

Paragould, Feb. 24 — (P)— Ten year-old Lou Ann Kingston is learning to talk again at a Memphis hospital.

She was injured seriously three months ago in a school bus accident near here in which several children were killed. She is recovering at the hospital.

Ann lost her power of speech. Physicians feared the condition might be permanent. Yesterday, however, friends here reported, she spoke for the first time since the accident. And with a little coaxing, she continued, using simple words.

Texans Make Jailbreak at Hot Springs

Hot Springs, Feb. 24 — (P)— Two Texans, charged with grand larceny, escaped from the Garland county jail early today.

They are Harry M. Pope of 409 Bedford st., Dallas, and Clarence Allen Bryant, 22, Rt. 1, Grand View, both former convicts.

The prisoners, who have been scheduled for arraignment today, apparently gained their freedom by using the sheriff's office reported. They were discovered to be missing at 7 a. m.

They made their getaway from their second-floor cell by prying mesh from a window and sliding down jail blankets which they had tied together.

A radio operator was the only officer on duty at the jail at the time of the break, and he said he heard no noise.

Pope and Bryant were arrested after James Earl Ray, Short, Dallas, was killed and a policeman, Johnny Erney, was wounded in a gun-fight in a downtown drugstore here last Dec. 8. Officers had surprised Short in the drugstore, who was working outside the drugstore. Pope later was arrested at a Hot Springs tourist court, and charges were filed against both men in connection with another drugstore break-in the same night.

Bryant is under a three-year suspended sentence imposed at Dallas. Pope formerly served 21 months in the Louisiana State penitentiary for burglary.

Since the drugstore shooting, Erney has recovered and is back on duty.

Police Chief George Callahan said Bryant dropped a gun without firing it when he was accosted by officers outside the drugstore at which the shooting occurred.

Officers expressed belief that Short and Bryant were searching for narcotics. A quantity of narcotics was stolen from the other drugstore that night.

Naval Veteran Admits Slaying Woman

El Dorado, Feb. 23 — (P)—Deputy Prosecutor Hugh Wharton said today a 29-year-old naval veteran had admitted the killing of a woman and a child.

Wharton said Don M. Stokes, 29, related in a "long confession note" how he shot Mrs. Viola Rushton, 40-year-old divorcee, in her bedroom early yesterday.

Stokes has been in custody here since he reported for duty as a woman's body in the bedroom of her apartment, which adjoins a night club near El Dorado.

No charge has been filed against Stokes.

The deputy prosecutor said Stokes told him the shooting followed an argument and a drinking party.

"After we retired she kept nagging at me," Wharton quoted Stokes as saying, "and I got a rifle to scare her."

"I pointed the gun at her and told her to shut up. It must have gone off. I didn't intend to shoot her."

Wharton said Stokes told him he spent the night in the bed with the woman's body and called officers Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Rushton died of a bullet wound below her left breast.

Camp Chaffee Personnel to Be Reduced

Fort Smith, Feb. 24 — (P)— Military personnel at nearby Camp Chaffee will be reduced by some 6,000 men during the next four months.

Capt. Jim Kelleher, public information officer of the fifth armored division, said the reduction would result from temporary suspension of selective service and a cut in enlistment quotas.

These Russians Have No Cold War Interest

Memphis, Tenn., Feb. 23 — (UP)— The cold war had no interest today for Molotov and Olga, a pair of Russian brown bears at the Overton Park zoo.

These Russians aren't mad at anyone. They're a very happy family, for Olga has given birth to triplets.

Mama Bear and her three tiny cubs are doing fine. But zoo Superintendent N. J. Jelley said Papa Bear hasn't been eating too well lately.

He's been too busy playing with his offspring.

Bulgaria Says Vatican Has Espionage Ring

Sofia, Feb. 24 — (UP)— Bulgarian Foreign Minister Vasil Kolarov charged today that the Vatican maintained a clerical espionage ring in Eastern Europe and forced its members to spy on and betray their mother countries.

Kolarov said in a statement supporting the so-called "cults bill" that it would safeguard the Bulgarian clergy from pressure to disclose state secrets.

"The epoch of Jesuitism is past," said the Communist minister, who doubles as deputy premier.

The foreign minister's statement was made in a parliament shortly after the Bulgarian government issued a 55-page booklet charging that 13 evangelists (Protestant) ministers had been "caught, red-handed" in a vast spy ring, "definitely manipulated from abroad."

The clergymen were arrested last December.

"The ministers, who have been accused of treason, espionage and black-market currency deals, go on trial Friday. The charges against them are similar to those on which Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty was convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment in Hungary."

The foreign minister said that the cults bill would require all church servants with headquarters abroad to have government "permission" before performing church duties.

"Bulgaria has responsible people's authority," Kolarov said. "That's why no church servant appointed by an organization headquartered abroad can assume his duties without having received permission from Bulgarian authorities."

He accused missionaries of paving the way for "capitalistic conquests" in Asia and Africa. He said merchants and army generals "followed the missionaries into a country."

Broad Housing Bill Passes Committee

Washington, Feb. 24 — (P)— The senate banking committee today approved a broad multi-billion federal housing bill, 9 to 3. It is to be introduced in the senate tomorrow as a bipartisan measure.

The action was announced by Chairman Maybank (D-SC) following a closed door meeting of the committee. He said Senators Bricker (R-Ohio), Aiken (R-Wash.) and Robertson (D-Va.) voted against the bill.

The committee also smacked down, 10 to 2, an amendment by Bricker to require that there be no segregation, or discrimination, in the public housing projects which the bill authorized.

For the moment at least, that action headed off a threat that the measure might bog down in a civil rights fight.

The bill, which would be intended to bring the amendment up on the floor, however, and that he had asked for a "record vote" in committee so that there would be no misunderstanding as to how senators had voted.

By HAL BOYLE
Miami — (P)— It was the big moment in the criminal life of "Muscle Eyes," the hotel mouse who could fix horse races with his hypnotic eyes.

The cream of the American underworld was there to hear the "big" of the national gambling syndicate lay down plans for the "big killing."

But the tiny mouse, natty in his camel hair polo coat, was the key man. For little "Muscle Eyes" had earned $5,000,000 for the syndicate by putting the whammy on race horses with his high-octane eye balls.

"And we need your whammy for the big killing," said the big boss coldly. "Here's the pitch: There's a horse called Jakehoff that's the Handicap at Hialeah."

"The mob's raised $10,000,000 to bet against him. If you put the whammy on Jakehoff, we collect $25,000,000. If you don't, well—"

"Make it easy, greasy," said the mouse. "I know my business."

The night before the race, the mob threw a party. "Muscle Eyes" and his mouse mob, Madeline, were guests of honor. Everybody drank champagne until "Muscle Eyes" passed out on a sofa pillow.

When the mob left, loyal Madeline, who wanted her mouse to go straight, began undressing him. She discovered a tiny pouch around his neck.

"What's this?" she asked, shaking him.

"Thass' my magic medicine pouch," he mumbled. "Keep my thyroid capsules and benzadrine tablets in it. They put the old whammy in my eyeballs."

He passed out again, adding, "Later that night a low rakish black roaster raced across the tautwaway to Miami Beach. The clear box, wrapped in a gunny sack, was hurled out and sunk to the bottom of Biscayne bay. And what gorgery, "Muscle Eyes" was smugged out to the track in his binoculars case carried by the big boss. The boss took up a position at the rail a hundred feet from the finish line.

"They're off!"

"That cry burst from thousands of throats as the big race began. "Muscle Eyes" crawled out. He opened his neck pouch and gulped down two pills and two capsules. As the horses turned into the home stretch Jakehoff was leading by three lengths.

"Give him the whammy!" screamed the boss.

The mouse bulged out his eyeballs. But instead of dropping back, Jakehoff picked up speed. The mouse pawed down some more capsules and pills. He strained his weary eyeballs from their sockets.

It was no more. Jakehoff endeavored to win by seven lengths — as the gambling syndicate boss faintly ed.

That night the mob gathered again in "Muscle Eyes" room. The mouse was being pressed with liquor from all side people and there was a Mickey Finn in every drink.

"We know you didn't mean for us to drop that $25,000,000," said the big boss smoothly.

"Now, I wouldn't doubt cross you," said "Muscle Eyes", beaming. "It was an accident."

He crawled into a hole in a chunk of cheese on the table and fell asleep. The big boss waited nervously until the mouse's eyes were shut. Then he gave a signal.

One huge gunman slapped a piece of bread against one side of the cheese. A second gunman jammed a slice against the other side. "Muscle Eyes" was entombed — a living corpse sandwich.

No one paid any attention to his muffled squeaks. Quickly the mob wrapped the sandwich with adhesive tape. Then they dropped it into a cigar box full of hardening concrete.

New Low Lines of Dodge Coronet

The completely new and distinctive functional styling of the new Dodge Coronet presents a lower silhouette with graceful body and fender lines. Interior overall length, width, and height have been increased although exterior dimensions have been reduced. Front and rear seats have been moved forward to permit better cradling between the axles. The Dodge Coronet has a wheelbase of 123 1/2 inches, 4 inches longer than previous models.

B. R. Hamm to Show 1949 Dodge Friday

New exterior styling, greater interior roominess, and a new, higher 7.0 to 1 compression "Get-Away" engine, feature the new Dodge cars, L. L. Colbert, president, Dodge Division of Chrysler Corporation, announced today.

Dodge models are being manufactured on two wheelbases. The new Coronet and Meadowbrook models on a 123 1/2-inch wheelbase, a 4-inch increase, replace the former custom and deluxe cars. A whole-ly new addition to the Dodge line is the lower-priced Wayfarer on a wheelbase of 115 inches.

First public showing of the new Dodge will be on Friday, Feb. 25,
in the Hope showrooms of B. R.
Hamm Motor company.

The new Dodge has been designed from the inside out to provide more head room, leg room and elbow room. Mr. Colbert said.
At the same time, he emphasized that exterior dimensions have been decreased. The new models are length in height, shorter in overall width in comparison with previous models — welcome parking and garaging news.

In the Coronet and Meadow-brook models, front seats are six inches wider and rear seats nearly eight inches wider. Dodge "knee-level" seats have been retained and head room is now the same for both front and rear seat passengers. In relation to the rear axle, seats have been moved forward to further improve Dodge's well-known "cradled ride." The new stationary footrest for rear seat passengers is scientifically placed for proper support and rear seat top rest is unaffected by the five-inch travel adjustment of front seat.

Important factors in effecting additional spaciousness in the front seat area are movement of the instrument panel a full four inches
further forward and location of bulky parts of the new Dodge fresh air heating and ventilating system
under the engine hood.

Dodge's functional design has resulted in an attractive exterior style with graceful body and fender lines and a new low silhouette.
Massive sheet metal fender sections have been avoided. Fender units are bolted on and, if necessary, can be quickly and easily replaced at a minimum inconvenience
and at least cost.

Front and rear doors swing
wider, opening almost a full 90 degrees, to make it easy to enter or leave the new Dodge. Rear doors of sedan models are hinged on the center post further contributing to ease of entry as well as providing an important safety factor. Forward motion of the car tends to swing the rear door closed if it is accidentally left open.

The lighted end of the new Dodge is highlighted by the massive chrome finished grille of simplified design which is easy to keep clean. Headlights are spaced 5 1/2 inches further apart and are 3/4 inches higher than previous models. This, together with improved sealed beam headlight units,

assures better road illumination
for safer night driving.

A distinctive rear end styling resulting from the natural blending of body and rear fender lines, helps to accentuate Dodge's new low silhouette. Deck lid lock, stop light and license light are combined in one attractive chrome unit. New plastic lenses of superior optical properties are used in all rear lights for greater brilliancy and better protection from the rear.

All Dodge models have larger windshields and rear windows with the windshield area being increased 24 per cent. Windshield wiper blades sweep a 44 per cent larger area. Better driver vision is provided by new hood contours and higher seats. Vent wings have been added to rear door windows for better rear seat ventilation. Vent wings in both front and rear doors
have a new tamper-proof lock.

Instrument panels are completely restyled with all instruments centered in front of the driver and recessed into panel to avoid confusing light reflections. Rotary controls which replace the former push-pull type are grouped for easier access and neater appearance. Instrument panel lighting adjustable from dim to bright and a combination ignition and starter switch are new features.

In keeping with the Dodge tradition of lowering its cars with a dependable and economical engine to meet modern driving needs, the Dodge "Get-Away" engine lists a number of improvements. Much faster acceleration and better idling and low-speed performance
are obtained by a higher 7.0 to 1 compression ratio and a new carburetor, intake manifold, camshaft, fuel pump and generator. Other engine improvements include better sealing of crankcase against dirt and more dependable wet wetter starting.

All models continue to feature the famous Dodge fluid drive as standard equipment. In addition, there is a new Gyro-Matic transmission which frees the driver from gear-shifting. It will be available as optional equipment on Coronet models.

The Coronet and Meadowbrook
lines include three four-door sedan models, a club coupe, a convertible, an 8-passenger sedan and, for the first time in a number of years,
Dodge will have a station wagon.
The Wayfarer line will include a two-door sedan, a 3-passenger coupe and a new roadster which is scheduled for later production.

Crow Girls Win County Tournament

The Hempstead County Tournament was held at Yergers high school Saturday, Feb. 12. The Junior trophy was won by Guernsey.
Yergers high school was the winner of the Senior trophy. These teams will represent the county at the district tournament which is to be held at Rosston Feb. 25.

Lambert Heads NCAA Cage District

Chicago, Feb. 24 — (AP) — The 1949 NCAA basketball selection committee, which will determine the eight teams picked for the championship tournament, was named today by Arthur
"Dutch" Lomborg, chairman of the TCAA basketball tournament committee.

The 385 active and allied members of the NCAA are divided into eight districts. Each district has a three-man selection committee,
and the chairman of this committee is a member of the NCAA basketball rules committee.

Teams selected from the four eastern districts will play in the eastern playoffs at New York, March 21-22. The four western teams will compete at Kansas City, Mo., arch 18-19. Winners and runners-up of each playoff will meet in the finals March 26 at the University of Washington, Seattle.

The tournament committee,
Lomborg said, discourages playoffs to determine a district representative. However, playoffs limited to one game are authorized when in the selection committee's opinion one is necessary to make a choice.

Fifth district selection committee:
Bruce Dranke, (Chairman) University of Oklahoma; E. A. Eilers,

Daisy 32; Gurdon 38, Emmet 27;
Umpire 28, Spring Hill 35; Mineral Springs 46, Lewisville 20.

Missouri Valley Conference: Clude
E. McBride, Kansas City, Mo.,

Sixth District:
Eugene Lambert, (Chairman)
University of Arkansas; Jack Gray,
University of Texas; J. F. McKale,
University of Arizona.

Electoral Vote Unfair Lodge Says

Washington, Feb. 23 —(P)—Senator Lodge (R-Mass) today assailed the present method of electing a president as "neither fair, accurate nor democratic."

He said the present "all-or-nothing" system of counting electoral votes has turned the electors into "rubber stamps."

The senate judiciary committee—for which Lodge prepared his statement—is considering a bipartisan resolution proposing a constitutional amendment to abolish the electoral college.

Under the amendment, sponsored by Lodge and 10 other senators, each state's electoral vote would be split among candidates in direct proportion to the number of popular votes each received. The candidate receiving the greatest number of electoral votes but not necessarily a majority would be elected.

The candidate receiving the most popular votes within a state now, with rare exception, gets the state's entire electoral vote.

Lodge argued that the proposed amendment would:

1. Make the popular vote count, by abolishing the electoral college's traditional unit voting rule.
  2. Eliminate the so-called "pivot," "solid," or "one party" positions held by some states. Lodge said the amendment would mean "a real two-party system in the South and in other so-called solid areas where the unit rule has perpetuated one party government."
  3. Eliminate the possibility of a candidate getting an electoral majority despite receiving only a minority of the popular vote. This happened in 1876 and 1888.
  4. Eliminate the possibility of a president being elected by the house of representatives, which is the present procedure when no candidate gets a clear-cut electoral majority.
- Sponsoring the new resolution with Lodge are Senators McCarran (D-Nev.), chairman of the judiciary committee; Fulbright (D-Ark), Hoyer (D-Md.), Sparkman (D-Ala.), Stennis (D-Miss.), Neely (D-W.Va.), Kefauver (D-Tenn.), Smith (R-N.Y.), Morse (R-Ore.) and Flanders (R-Vt.).

Wagner Believes Modern Hurlers Good as Any

Pittsburgh, Feb. 23 —(UP)—Honus Wagner, baseball's perennial who turns 75 tomorrow, defied the ghosts of yesteryear today by saying modern pitchers are just as good as the famed old-timers.

But the all-time shortstop, who recently signed his 30th baseball contract with the Pittsburgh Pirates, slyly admitted fishing he was young enough to take a good cut at one of today's pitches.

The "Flying Dutchman," who was one of the first choices for Baseball's Hall of Fame because of his historic record with the Pittsburgh Pirates, doesn't subscribe to the belief that pitchers of his day were better than present hurlers.

"In those days pitchers didn't have to work with the lively ball. The ball was pretty dead and they could rest between pitches. They didn't have to keep throwing fast balls like they do today," he said.

"If the fellows today could use the spitball and shiner like they could in my time, the batters wouldn't have those big averages. It would take them a couple years to learn how to hit the spitball."

"How could I hit against the lively ball if I were in my prime? Well, I would have liked to have had the chance."

Although he signed to coach the Pirates again this season, this grizzled heretic baseball won't be taking the trip to training camp at San Bernardino, Cal.

"Had a touch of the walkin' flue," he said.

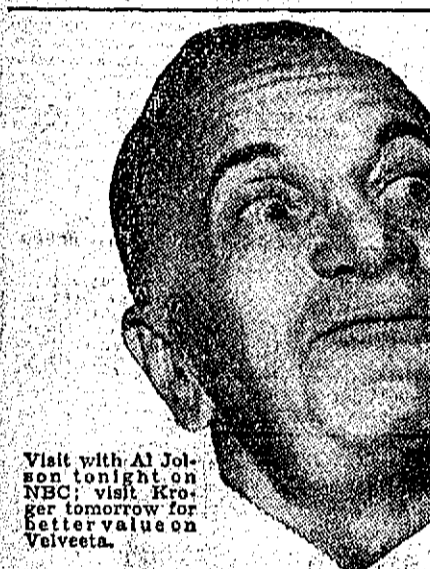

Honus, a baseball hero of three generations, escorted the reporter to the door with the remark: "You can put it down that I'm still 33."

He's right at that — 33 is his uniform number.
